That the Churches support the Foreign Missions, as far as they are able, and as there is great destitution in our bounds, we again earnestly recommend that our Association help to more fully consecrate their ministers to the work by cutting them loose, as much as they are able, from secular labor, and let them wait continually upon the work of the Lord. And we further recommend that some one of our ministers be sent out in the bounds of our Association to preach to the destitute portion of people in our bounds. We also recommend that we appoint an executive committee to meet at a certain time and place, to employ a minister to travel in the destitute places in our bounds, and to urge their churches to throw in all they can to support the minister that is chosen.
